

UNC
FRIDAY CENTER

The William and Ida Friday Center for Continuing Education

March 27, 2013

100 Years Ago
Continuing education was established at
UNC-Chapel Hill in 1913

22 Years Ago
The William and Ida
Friday Center was established at
UNC-Chapel Hill in 1991

2012-2013

Professional Development & Enrichment Programs
3,000 Enrollments

Susan Waddell: Nursing Refresher

Jamie Berger: Community Classroom

Anita Woodley: Community Classroom

Tania Osborn: Paralegal Program

2012-2013

Credit Programs for Part-time Students
8,000 Enrollments

Kimberly Johnson: Carolina Courses Online

Tyler Forrest: Self-paced Courses

Chris Leitch: Carolina Courses Online

Stephanie Henry: Self-paced Courses

2012-2013

Conference Center
70,000 Participants

An Evening with William Ferris

Black History Month Program and Reception Free to Public

Friday Center Vision

- Facility Enhancements
 - » Technology-Enhanced Classrooms
 - » Interior & Exterior Design
- Scholarships
 - » Credit Programs
 - » Non-Credit Programs
- Community Events and Outreach
- Online Learning Research and Development
 - » Credit Programs
 - » Massive Open Online Courses
- UNC Teaching, Research, Service

- About Us
- Conference Center
- Credit Programs
- Noncredit Programs
- Request Information
- Support the Center

GIVE TO THE FRIDAY CENTER

QUICK LINKS

MOOCs

Carolina Courses Online

Self-paced Courses

Part-time Classroom Studies

Conference Center

Student Stories

Staff Directory

Map and Directions

Contact Us

Welcome from the Director

NEWS

New York Times Special Section: Continuing Education

Friday Center BRIDGES program receives state leadership award

MOOCs and Tablet Computing Are Top Tech Trends in 'Horizon Report'

Friday Center hosts Minority Health Conference

What's the Big Idea?

By popular demand, the Friday Center offers another exciting series showcasing the latest research on the human brain. MORE »

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT AND ENRICHMENT PROGRAMS

The Friday Center offers noncredit seminars and workshops for professional education, and a stimulating selection of enrichment courses taught by outstanding UNC-Chapel Hill faculty, staff, alumni, and community experts. MORE »

CREDIT PROGRAMS FOR PART-TIME STUDENTS

Part-time learners can take classes for academic credit on campus, online, or by correspondence. Both semester-based and self-paced courses are available. MORE »

THE CONFERENCE CENTER

Situated on quiet, beautifully landscaped grounds, with convenient access from all points in the Triangle, the Friday Center provides an ideal setting for continuing education programs of all descriptions. MORE »

CALENDAR

MAR 18 CCO summer registration begins

APR 11 What's the Big Idea? begins

APR 26 Last day of classes

APR 30 Exam period begins